DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in response to the RCE and the Amendment filed November 20, 2003.

Accordingly, claim 1 was amended, claims 3, 10, 28 and 29 were cancelled, and new claims 30-78 were added. Currently, claims 1, 2, 4-9, 11-27 and 30-78 are pending in this application.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1, 2, 4-9, 11-27 and 30-78 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: none of the prior art of record fairly suggests or shows all of the limitations as claimed. Specifically,

Re claims 1, 30 and 54, none of the prior art of record discloses, in combination with other limitations as claimed, a surface alignment comprising an array of posts which have at least one of a shape and an orientation to induce a liquid crystal director adjacent said posts to adopt two different tilt angles in substantially the same azimuthal direction, wherein said posts are arranged in one of a random or pseudorandom array; wherein at least part of a side wall of said posts is tilted at a tilt angle in the range of about 5 to 7 degrees with respect to the normal to the plane of the first cell wall; and wherein said posts have a cross section selected from the group consisting of circle shape, square shape, oval shape, and diamond shape.

The most relevant reference, USPN 6,456,348 B2 of Bryan-Brown et al., fails to disclose or suggest a surface alignment comprising an array of posts arranged in one of

Application/Control Number: 09/816,942

Art Unit: 2871

a random or pseudorandom array, or tilted at a tilt angle in the range of about 5 to 7 degrees, or having a cross section selected from the group consisting of circle shape, square shape, oval shape, and diamond shape. The reference of Bryan-Brown et al.

only discloses a bistable nematic liquid crystal device having a surface alignment grating that permits the liquid crystal molecules to adopt two different pretilt angles in the same azimuthal plane, wherein the grating may be provided with small pillars (or posts) (col. 3, lines 30-35 and lines 56-63).

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
